

A Great College Faculty

We are delighted to report that the College Department of Berea has the largest and best all-round faculty this year that it has ever had in the history of the Institution. Our newest addition to the faculty is Major Karl T. Waugh, Ph.D., who comes to Berea as Dean of the College and Professor of Education. Dr. Waugh, before the war, was Professor of Education at Beloit College. He is the son of missionary parents—born in the mission field in India; a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, and a Ph.D. graduate from Harvard. Dr. Waugh has had teaching experience in a number of leading institutions, and received the hearty endorsement of such men as Bishop McDowell, Dr. Bagley, of Columbia, Professor Crawford, of Beloit, and Dr. Hedges, also of Beloit. His co-workers in Beloit write of him as "a man of rare accuracy and breadth of scholarship, of fine culture, systematic and exact classroom work, a devoted Christian man, with true missionary spirit, a fine personal interest in his students, and a keen interest in athletics and various other college interest."

Professor Franklin C. Thompson, A.B., Professor of Chemistry and Physics, is a graduate of Williams College and Hartford Theological Seminary. He has also been a student at Columbia University and was recently secretary in educational work of the Y. M. C. A. Professor Thompson comes highly recommended as a man of scholarly attainments and pleasing personality. He will fill a great place as head of our physics and chemistry courses.

work. Professor King is a graduate from Baker University and had a teaching fellowship in mathematics in the University of Wisconsin, where he specialized in mathematics and astronomy. He comes to us from eleven years teaching experience in Kansas Wesleyan University. Prof. King is a master of his subject and will give able instruction to those who take his classes.

These new recruits come as supporters and co-workers with our honored and distinguished College teachers who have been with us for a number of years. Dr. Raine, head of the English Department, known throughout the South and many parts of the East and West for his Shakespearian lectures, and Bible Conference work, is at his regular post, after a year's service with the American army.

Dr. Raymond, vice-president of the College and Dean of Religious Education, will be responsible for the organization and instruction of Bible in the entire Institution.

Miss Welsh, Professor of French and German, Miss True, Instructor in Home Economics, Miss Ackley, Instructor of Biology, Dr. Weidner, Dean of Labor and Professor of Latin, and one other new professor, not yet agreed upon, will constitute the College faculty for the incoming year.

Miss Joy Secor, M.A., the new Dean of Academy Women, graduate of Columbia University and for a number of years Y. W. C. A. Secretary and Vocational Counselor, New York City Schools.

Miss Alice K. Douglas is returning to Berea, after five years absence, to be Associate Dean of Foundation Women.

Miss Annie M. Southworth, graduate of Northfield Seminary and for nine years Domestic Science teacher in Hindman, is the new instructor of Home Science in the Normal.

Miss Katherine True, A.B., of the University of Wisconsin, is the new instructor in Latin in the Academy.

Miss Dale Waterbury, B.S., of Purdue University, instructor of Home Science in the Vocational Department.

To the above names add seventy teachers and professors, who are already in Berea, and you will get an estimate of the kind of faculty from whom you will get your instruction if you are a student in Berea this year.

Seventy-five percent of education comes from the personal contact with able and inspiring teachers—teachers whose lives are full of sympathy for humanity, knowledge of their subject, and power of expression. Berea has for many years been very successful in securing such teachers. Our former students from every department speak of their school days in Berea as days of great inspiration and resolve to do higher things. It is largely because of the moving spirit of the individual teachers. Young people who are living in the region, served by Berea, are invited to enjoy this rich and rare

Berea College—School for Nurses

Nursing is for many women a better calling than teaching. Berea College Hospital offers two distinct courses—a three years' course, which prepares the student for the State examination, and a shorter course, which prepares for practical nursing. This shorter course consists largely of practical bedside work, but there are also fifty-two hours of class room work with instruction in housekeeping, cooking, and serving food for the sick, observation of symptoms, application of common household remedies, care of contagious cases, disinfection and fumigation, dressing simple wounds, bandaging, preparation for surgical dressing, operating technique, care of obstetrical cases, and neighborhood nursing.

At the end of eighteen months, if the work has been successfully completed, the students of this course receive a diploma stating that they have completed the course and are qualified to work as practical nurses.

The longer course covers a period of three years, and prepares its graduates for the State examinations, which, when successfully passed, give the young women the title of registered nurse, and give them all the legal and professional privileges which go with the R. N.

They may obtain reciprocity with other states and are admitted to Red Cross and government service. This course consists of regular class room work prescribed by the State law. There is abundant bed-side, surgical, and obstetrical work. All candidates for graduation from this course will spend the first six months of their third year in the Cincinnati City Hospital, where they will receive training in the kinds of work which are not given in Berea. Candidates for this course must give evidence that they have completed the equivalent of the first year in high school. Candidates for both the courses will be required to spend three months in privilege of living with our faculty during the coming year.

Mr. C. H. Wertenberger arrived in Berea on Thursday from Wadsworth, Ohio, and is receiving cordial greetings from his many friends who welcome his return. Mr. Wertenberger reached Philadelphia over a month ago, after a year spent in the Service of Supply Department of the Y. M. C. A. in Southern France. He will take up his duties as a College worker at the beginning of the school year.

The children's bureau at Washington reports that from three to six million children in the United States are not getting enough to eat because their parents cannot at present prices buy the nourishing food required. Nonsense. Were the oatmeal-bred of Scotland, in more old-fashioned times, victims of malnutrition? There must be few families in the United States so poor that the best and most wholesome food is beyond their reach. The trouble is that what is really wholesome and nutritious is generally despised, and what is more expensive and less nourishing is considered necessary. —Orilla Packet probation, must furnish three plainly made gingham dresses, preferably blue, three large white aprons, plain comfortable shoes, with low rubber heels, a sufficient quantity of underwear, long coat, rubbers, umbrella, simple clothes for church and other special gatherings, and an inexpensive watch with a good second hand. These articles may be purchased at a low price at the College Co-operative Store.

At the end of the probation period, the candidate, if approved, will sign an agreement to complete the prescribed course and to conform to all the regulations of Berea College.

She will make a deposit of five dollars with the Treasurer, which will be forfeited if she leaves before finishing the course, unless excused for good reasons.

Board, room, laundry, uniform, and text books are furnished by the hospital to the students in both courses. Applicants for both courses must be above eighteen years of age and must send recommendations as to character and ability from two responsible neighbors. They must also send a statement from their home physician that they are in good health, and able to stand the strain of nursing.

This announcement is not made as an advertisement, for our nursing school for the coming term, as our limit has been reached and no more applications can be received until our present enrollment has decreased. But we wish to inform the readers of The Citizen, and those who are contemplating the nurse's career, of what we are doing in Berea.

Any physicians or hospitals in the mountains desiring community nurses, hospital nurses, or practical helpers, should write the College Secretary, or Dr. R. H. Cowley, for recommendations. Any one desiring to enter the nurse's course in the future should get into correspondence with the College Secretary or with Doctor Cowley.

TREATY FOES TO SPEAK

Borah, Johnson and McCormick to Speak in Chicago.

Republican Senators Arrange Plans for Addresses in Various Parts of Country This Week.

Washington, Sept. 8.—With the hearings by the foreign relations committee on the peace treaty closed, attention turned to efforts of the so-called "mild" and "drastic" reservation advocates to reach an agreement on the form the proposed reservation clauses and amendments should take. In the meantime, Chairman Lodge and Senator Hitchcock, leader of the Democratic ratification forces, were at work preparing the majority and minority reports, respectively, which they hope to have ready this week.

Republican leaders of the factions opposed to unreserved ratification of the treaty will begin a campaign of speechmaking in reply to the president Wednesday. Senators Johnson, Borah and McCormick will address a mass meeting in Chicago on that date, and Senator Johnson plans to speak at Indianapolis Thursday, at St. Louis Friday and at Kansas City Saturday. Senator Reed will deliver an address at Akron, Ohio, Sunday, and next week Senator Wadsworth will speak at Salem, N. Y.

Senator Poindexter plans an address for Dunkirk, N. Y., Thursday and later will speak at Pittsburgh and New York city.

In announcing plans for the speechmaking the Republican leaders said there was no intention to "trail" the president, but it was proposed to reply to his speeches both on the floor of the senate and elsewhere.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 8.—Resolutions protesting against the release of Brent Dow Allinson, Chicago, pacifist and conscientious objector, from the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., where he is serving a four-year sentence for refusing to perform military services during the war, were forwarded to Secretary of War Baker by the local post of the American Legion. Declaring that certain "misguided individuals" are attempting to secure the release of Allinson from Leavenworth, the war veterans assert that "the four years given to this specimen of near manhood is little enough and should stand." "We voice our protest against the pardoning of this man and thus placing him on a par with the brave Americans who gave their all willingly that the country might live," says the resolutions.

CARPENTERS CALL IN UMPIRE

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Chicago carpenters have agreed to call in the services of an umpire to adjust differences between them and their employers and other building trades craftsmen. ACTORS' STRIKE ENDS

Settlement Reached at Conference in New York.

All Theaters Affected by Walkout Will Reopen at Once—Players Are Fully Satisfied.

New York, Sept. 8.—The actors' strike which began about a month ago and after closing the majority of legitimate theaters in New York, spread to other cities was settled early today.

All theaters affected by the strike will be reopened at once.

The settlement followed a four-hour conference between producing managers and representatives of the Actors' Equity Association and other labor organizations of the theater workers.

Augustus Thomas, the playwright, chairman of the mediation committee of the Authors' League of America stated that an open shop had been agreed upon.

Francis Wilson, president of the Actors' Equity association said all differences had been settled to the satisfaction of both sides. A statement, it was said, would be issued during the day setting forth the terms of the agreement.

Settlement of the strike came directly after officials of the International Alliance of State Employees and Motion Pictures Operators had ordered members employed in 109 theaters through the country where Shubert productions are being played to strike immediately.

Both the stage hands' organization and the actors' association are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

The new actors' Fidelity League, organized since the strike began by George M. Cohan in an attempt to force the Equity association to a settlement, had no part in the final conference and agreement. It was intimated that the Fidelity would soon disband since the striking actors refused to recognize it.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—J. J. Rosenthal, manager of the Woods theater, announced that if the New York press reports of a settlement of the actors' strike were substantiated the Woods theater and all other theaters in Chicago would reopen at once.

He held that liquor may not legally be seized without a written order from a judge.
